NOVEMBER HOROSCOPES

November and December are the two months of the year when we have a repeat of the year's energies from the start of the year. This happens every year, in fact, when we have a carbon copy of energies that book-end themselves at the start and the finish. It usually happens in February and March and then the energies repeat themselves in November and December.

Can you remember way back at the start of the year and how it developed?

Many times that is how the year ends...like it starts.

When you think about it, it makes sense because we only have 9 energies and we have 12 months, so they have to repeat themselves.

What you will often find is that old problems and good things have a way of showing up again but with a slightly different flavor.

For example, if you had a problem with the flu back in February, you might find this month a sinus infection shows up. Or, maybe you had a falling out with a family member and things settled out...and this month that old problem rears its head again. Look back to February and March to see how this month and next could affect you, and then make plans accordingly.

Ho Tu luck for these lucky signs

Just as when the lunar year began, we had five signs with Ho Tu luck this month. That means the heavens bring beneficial news of the best kind to the horse, rooster, rat, ox, and tiger. So, even if the energies aren't the best, the Ho Tu combination offers a red carpet energy that brings these five signs VIP blessings and opportunities.

The rabbit benefits from heavenly energies

The zodiac star this year, the rabbit, gets a boost from the 6 heavenly fortune star this month and could receive wonderful benefits. If you're a rabbit, enjoy November for all the good news, windfalls such as royalties and commissions, real estate profits, or a helping hand of the heavenly kind, that will be showered on you.

Next year will be a much sweeter and lighter year and I'm excited for what the Year of the Dragon holds for you.

Lucky rooster

The rooster has been hosting the 6 star all year and this month, a luscious pearl will drop in your lap bringing you opportunities that come with signed checks! Sweet. Wear your best gold jewelry and bling to facilitate more moolah.

The northwest sector of dog and pig is challenged

This month, the heaven sector where the dog and pig signs are located, will need to be extra cautious with health, career, money and love. This is not a good month to test the black diamond ski slopes or do anything that can cause injury.

You will be having to manage injury energy, so don't tempt fate by doing anything that could cause you to hurt yourself. Can you take a vacation to a beach? If so, go for it. Keep a low profile and take everything slowly and carefully.

Dragon and snake should tread carefully in November

Injury is just one more kind of concern that dragons and snakes need to worry about. Theft, fraud or betrayal are other types of injuries, which sometimes feel worse than a twisted ankle or finger cut.

This is why you'll want to keep a sharp eye out for injuries by metal... or by people. The 7 star is also the star that portends covid, so keep up your hygiene diligence like frequent hand washing. Watch, too, for anger, whether it's yours or someone else's. You could find your tongue has a sharp blade, and you don't want to say something dumb that results in a loss.

Because you are the sign with a sum of ten configuration, you could find that something comes to a close or that you are able to bring something to completion. That's always a good feeling whenever that happens and it's something you can look forward to here in the next to the last month of the year.

Sheep and Monkey should watch health in November

With the 5 Yellow coming to visit, it's wise to monitor your health and finances, and don't run red lights. Stay on the straight and narrow and don't take chances, or you could be hurt. It's also possible that the sniffles...or worse, covid...could catch up with you. Keep your health guard up this month. Next month will be much sweeter.

Horses need to manage their temper this month

Read the fine print and be sure to get plenty of exercise in November. You will also want to keep boasting to a minimum as it could set someone off. Do be sure to get plenty of fresh air and exercise to keep your mood mellow. Watch for legal issues or problems with gossip as these could both crop up in the month ahead.

Rats feel the love

This month rats will have a much-needed break from the heavy energy of October, and all the better.

Try to be as kind and sweet as you can be and avoid snappy retorts or caustic comments, something you always have on the ready. Instead, be patient and kind to attract others to you like a moth to a flame, because you could if you let people see your sweetest side. Put on your best clothes as you could find admiring glances come your way.

Chi and crackers,

YOUR MONTHLY HOROSCOPE

Rabbit

Fortune smiles on your with windfalls and prestige

Did last month feel prickly? If it did, you'll enjoy the heavenly beam of light that will follow you around all month long in November. This month has the tinkling sounds of heavenly chimes that bring you good news in the form of royalties, monies, commissions, or that knight in shining armor who has good news. This knight could bring you good financial news, surprise windfalls, or could be the doctor you have been looking for to help solve a health problem. It seems that just the right person will be there for you this month and could bring you benefits and blessings. Watch for powerful people or international interests to come into your sphere in November. Wear real gold or silver and white gems this month, such as diamonds and pearls. Avoid red colors.

Dragon

Keep your health and immunity up with de-stressing

As the year winds down and you face the holidays ahead, do your best to keep tensions at bay and keep your tongue tied if you're tempted to say something you might later regret. It's also a good month to boost your vitamins, practice good infection hygiene, and keep tabs on health. You are hosting the respiratory infection star, so flu, RSV, or covid could find you if your health isn't in tip top shape. And by health, I also mean your outlook. Stress can drive down your immunity, so be sure to take you-time to help destress and make your immune system robust. This month could find you wrapping up a nagging matter or lingering issue and that will be the cherry on the ice cream this November. If something is outstanding and dragging on, put your famous energy behind it to get it wrapped up. In the meantime, wear blue gemstones like turquoise to protect your health, and bright colors to keep your vibe bright and happy.

Snake

Watch for anger or unscrupulous types

The month of November may feel like February all over again. Can you remember back to that month? There will be a familiarity about this month, so look back to see your way ahead in November. Watch that you don't fall prey to cutting off an important relationship or that you let anger, whether it's yours or someone else's, get the better of you. Keep close tabs on your bank accounts and your health. If your mood goes down, your health could go with it, so try to stay on the lighter side of life by staying far away from those who annoy you or needle you. This will help you stay positive and energized instead of irritated and depleted. A bright spot of the month is that you may feel that a matter will come to a head...or a conclusion and both scenarios will feel good to you. Do watch your personal space so that you don't fall prey to any of the respiratory infections out there circulating now. Look for ways to remove things from your life that weigh you down and you'll come out ahead in November. Wear a blue evil eye charm or blue colored stones and light colors to keep your energy up and healthy.

Horse

Keep energy light, happy, and look for fun and growth opportunities

If you've been looking for the month when you could see new growth, areas for profits and investments, you will love November. With a success-oriented Ho Tu combination, you'll have energies that will help push you ahead financially. Do watch that you keep your mood and energy high by spending plenty of time outdoors and getting good exercise and air. Find ways to have fun, too. Interestingly, when you have a lighter mood, money has a way of finding you. Avoid any bitter or gossipy types this month because loose talk could have a way of blowing back on you. Instead, try to coordinate events, parties, or get together as a way to play up good vibes and keep your energy light and happy. Look for ways to expand your world. Maybe a trip somewhere exotic? Wear red and bright colors to keep your mood upbeat and to outshine any negative Nellies out there. Carry the numbers 8 and 3 with you this month for a big money bump.

Sheep

Watch your health and money closely in November

This is the month when cold and flu season gets under way and with your energies in November, make sure it gets under way without you. Avoid crowds and keep up good health practices like handwashing, good vitamins, and eating clean to help boost your immune system. If health isn't a concern, relationships might be. Females may be stressing you or creating difficulties. Watch your activities, too, so that you don't injure yourself. Avoid ultra high heels or you could be off your feet with a twisted ankle. If health concerns crop up, get to the doctor quickly and address it right away to lessen the impact. Wear green, brown, and light colors this month and plenty of sparkling gold or silver jewelry. This will help protect both your health and your energy.

Monkey

Health and money take center stage this month

When you have a heavy energy like the 5 Yellow, the month can feel burdensome, but it's also a good time to look at taking some time off, scheduling a staycation, or taking care of health or home matters, like organizing the garage. Because the illness energy is afoot, it's a good time to steer clear of crowds and keep up good health practices. Look for ways to build in exercise that is calming like yoga or tai chi...or simply walking on the beach or taking in some tree bathing. Keeping your mind and body in tip top shape is a good way to avoid infections and steer clear of illness. Make some medical appointments if you're overdue for a check up. Watch for mental stress causing physical stress. Sounds like a good month to schedule a facial and a massage or two. Wear light colors and real metal jewelry to help protect your health.

Rooster

Ho Tu energies bring you love and money luck this month

This month offers up a silver platter filled with your favorite kinds of things, like opportunities, romance, travel, and prestige. Find ways to hob knob with those in your workplace to help new business or career gems to plop in your lap. Looking at your investments? Look at technology this month for equities that could go up in value. If you're single, don't stay in. Smart roosters will take every opportunity to circulate at work and for pleasure. Look your best so that all eyes and opportunities land on you. Wear pearls, light colors, and shiny sparkly items that glitter. Carry the numbers 6 and 1 with you to help spur more luck, like business class tickets to an exotic destination perhaps, to help top off the month of heavenly blessings and changes.

Dog

Tread carefully this month and keep a low profile

Each month has its rain and its rainbows. This month has a big black cloud on the horizon, but if you are a clever dog, I know you'll keep an umbrella at the ready. This is the month to look at ways to add stability to your life. Avoid making big life changes in November as they may have a way of falling apart or creating a problem for you. Keep your circle tight and watch your money and your health. Avoid doing anything that is physically demanding or that places your money or accounts in jeopardy. Take any odd health matters (especially eyes, heart, head, and blood pressure) to the doctor to get checked out. It's better to have it checked than wait and wonder. Make safety and security a priority this month and don't push relationships at home or at work or they could backfire on you. Wear blue colors and avoid wearing red or orange. Turquoise and blue gemstones will help protect health.

Pig

Take the month slow and keep eyes on health and money

This is the month to practice being calm and conservative. Pigs can sometimes become emotional and this is not the month to get yourself stirred up. It's a much better month to spend time doing self-care and organizing around your house. Just avoid getting on ladders or doing anything risky, like hiking alone or running yellow lights. Instead, keep close tabs on your health, relationships, and money. This is not the month to ask for a promotion at work or to start a new investment strategy. Keep on the well-known path in November so that you don't have any unpleasant surprises. Watch health for infection (respiratory) or for problems with your eyes (pink eye?), blood pressure, or heart. These are all areas that could be affected. Practice yoga or meditation to keep your energy level and mellow. Wear light colors and blue gemstones to protect health. Avoid wearing red or orange.

Rat

This is a month coming up roses for you

The Ho Tu combination that's coming for you this month could bring your rewards, benefits, and surprises of the very best kind...maybe even the romantic kind. Friends may pop up out of the blue and your social circle may widen and you will be at your most charismatic best. Carry the numbers 9 and 4 with you this month to tap the energy. Do you like to communicate? If you're a writer or simply love to put up posts on social media, you'll see your star rise as attention is lavished on you this month. Look for ways to pamper and treat yourself, whether that's with a massage or by planning a vacation. Wear bright and vibrant colors to put more eyes on you and to capitalize on the energy that you are brimming with. Red and purple gemstones help boost your magnetism even further.

Ox

Ho Tu luck offers descendant's luck and tidy profits

This month offers some frustrations, but there is a silver lining that will put a smile on your face because it comes with benefits for your children or your bank account – or both! On a more mundane note, the concern with the month ahead is that annoyances could line up and cause you to have a stomachache or come down with a cold. Keep up your vitamins and steer clear of spicy foods or anything that could make your stomach touchy, like too much fried, overly-rich, or fast foods. Keep tabs on your finances and avoid making big expenditures if you can help it. You may find your relationship becomes testy, but make sure you don't snipe or become too testy as this will pull down your energy and make the month long and your relationship tense. Do your best to wear light colors and real metal jewelry. Avoid red and orange colors so that your health stays strong. Next month will be much lighter!

Tiger

Watch for a bump of luck that boosts your bank account

What can you do to make your health better? That's the question to ask yourself all month long. That's because the illness star is parked in your zodiac zone and it could make you more prone to aggravations like sniffles or acid indigestion. Keep up good health practices with plenty of hand sanitizing and good vitamins. Get plenty of sleep and eat more soup. Why? Soup has lots of vitamins and no one ever feels bad when they eat soup. If you can build in time to spend in your relationship, that is also good for your health. Take time this month for date nights and special time set aside for just the two of you. Keep up your exercise and avoid spicy and overly rich foods that could weigh you down. On the plus side, you have a Ho Tu combination that could give your kids a lift of luck and bring you some ka-ching! Wear plenty of real metal jewelry and light colors. Avoid wearing too much red or orange.
