NEW MOON NOTICE

New Moon in Scorpio, Monday, November 13 at 4:27 am ET

The month opens with Halloween behind us and the holidays ahead of us. Just two weeks into November and we will have a New Moon in Scorpio. This is the zodiac sign of death, sex, regeneration, and the deepest, most intimate feelings we have.

This sign is all about starting anew...a rebirth following a death.

But it's not as dark as all that....

We all renew ourselves, shedding skin, bad habits, toxic people, or situations. This all falls in the Scorpio domain, so by shining a light on some the darkest areas of your inner life, you are able to move forward and leave those dark places behind.

Releasing old wounds

This month, look at those parts of your life that remain hidden and ask yourself why you are hiding them, or if you need to forgive yourself, or if you can simply let those dark parts fall away....like a tree shedding leaves in the fall.

Sometimes it's as easy as simply.... letting go.

Remember, the New Moon is about an increasing light, yet this is when the moon is dark...and unseen. It reminds us to remember that we can only change what we acknowledge, and then finally, accept.

So, as this Scorpio Moon comes into position, be thinking of old hurts, traumas, and those things that you are ready to let go of so that you can transform them into growth, positivity, and unburdening yourself from the past.

December and the New Year

It's hard to believe the rabbit is growing smaller and the dragon year ahead is growing larger, but it is. The year has gone by so quickly....almost like a rabbit. Wink. 😊

Next month will be the last update for the Year of the Rabbit, and I'll be sure to add some fun announcements in there for you, so be on the watch for it.

In the meantime, consider holding a small releasing ceremony to your darker self, those sad memories, those old mistakes and unresolved hurts.

Start by lighting a candle and write down all those items you are ready to release with the incoming light of the New Moon, and then, blowing out the candle, let them go and let yourself be freed from the past.

Chi and crackers,

Katie
