

RED LOTUS LETTER

by Katie Weber

MOVE ENERGY, MAKE MONEY

FENGSHUI Insider

NEW MOON NOTICE

New Moon in Sagittarius, Tuesday, December 12 at 6:32 pm ET

The New Moon finds its way to us in the middle of the month – and a day before Mercury goes retrograde. It may feel like you're taking one step forward and another step back. But that's okay. Sometimes it's good to go over old ground.

Because it's the holidays now, why not pull out some old recipes or if you've stopped sending holiday cards, pick up a box and send old friends a note.

Travel ahead?

Sagittarius is all about travel. Think about it – half of this particular zodiac sign is a horse. Where have you wanted to go? This is a great month to be thinking about where you'd like the coming year to take you.

This is a terrific way to use the New Moon and get a boost from Jupiter, the ruling planet for the sign of Sagittarius. Jupiter loves to think big, so give your thoughts over to taking an epic trip next year.

Last year when I made my New Moon wishes, I wished to travel frequently in the year ahead and boy did that happen. As of this writing, I will have visited 12 different countries in 2023. I am astounded by that.

Seek guidance and connection

Another way to use the New Moon is by focusing on ways to increase your connection with spirit, yourself, or with nature. As a half man and half horse, this sign asks us to bring balance to our mind and spirit, body and mind, and our inner and outer selves.

Find ways to honor what's important to you.

One European tradition that I find re-orienting is lighting the four advent candles. A candle is lit on one of the four Sundays before Christmas to remind us of the light of the season and the coming birth of the Christ child, and of the virtues of peace, joy, hope, and love.

No matter your religion, the advent candles are a nice tradition that can help re-orient us in a time that can often be filled with so much activity and bring more mindfulness of the holidays, the birth of light on the 21st of the month, or Winter Solstice, and to be mindful of the coming year and being more focused on hope and love.

This Month's New Moon

DATE: Tuesday, December 12

SIGN: Sagittarius

TIME: 6:32 pm ET (Find your time zone comparison)

This Month's Wish Themes

- Observing religious practices, spirituality, prayer and meditation
- Speaking frankly and honestly, but unemotionally
- Using your gut instincts, intuition, and trusting your little voice inside
- Holding positive expectations, looking for adventure, and doing things spontaneously
- Taking a trip to a far-flung location, traveling, relocating to another country
- Legal matters, fairness, judgments, maintaining morality and integrity
- Grand gestures, chivalry, and keeping an open and friendly attitude
- Delving into complex matters, higher education, solving problems
- Avoiding excess spending, extravagance, self-importance or righteousness

- Developing an attitude of optimism, luck and opportunity finding you

Remember to keep to a maximum number of ten wishes. Try to make your wishes within eight hours of the New Moon.

Word your wishes positively and with a specific result or outcome in mind, such as "I wish for _____ to easily/effortless come to me/happen for me/be released."

Mercury Retrograde

The planet of communications and travel will be in backwards motion from December 13 until January 1st. Keep this in mind when you're making those New Moon wishes and New Year's resolutions – you may even want to do a repeat from last December or last year. Maybe you could make part of the year a do-over?

Year of the Dragon

With the Year of the Rabbit winding down, I am looking toward the Year of the Dragon now. The Lunar New Year will be Saturday, February 10th...quite late this year! But it gives me a bit more time to work on a Mini Success Pack, which I am working on now.

Please be sure to check back with the Redlotusletter.com website frequently after the first week in December. When the Mini Success Pack is ready, I'll be sure to put up a notice there! You can also check back on the updates page, too, where there will also be an update as well. :)

Chi and crackers,

